Slightly Censored: Letters Home from the Pacific Theater tells a story of a young man barely out of high school, thrown into combat half a world away, surviving loneliness, and both boredom and mortal peril, until his return home the following year as a highly decorated veteran. The casual, tongue-in-cheek style of the letters, together with the comical cartoons, are in deep contrast with the ...

Letters from the First World War, part one (1915) is based on the first half of the RAIL record. We have labelled each letter according to a theme from the First World War. For example, some letter writers have detailed their experience of the trenches, injury, or active service in the Dardanelles and India or training prior going abroad. Others have touched on the technology of war, the ...
